Lefty Gomez Said It With Furs Day He Left for West

June O'Dea Vows Her
Love For Yank Ace;
Won't Sign Papers

Far from having a serious quarrel before they parted, the masculine half of the Lefty Gomez-June O'Dea marital battery presented her with a fur coat, June, former stage star, admitted today in Boston.

And beyond that (said June) the Yankees pitching ace may or may not be interested in a Hollywood actress—but no matter what these reports, she won't believe it.

"He went to Hollywood," she said, "to play golf with Bing Crosby and other actors."

PLANS NEW CAREER

"We had no quarrel before he left. In fact, he gave me a nice present—a lovely fur wrap."

In town for the holidays and to see her sister, Sunny Dale, now dancing at a Boston theater, June declared that tonight she may return to New York and again take up her stage career.

As she admitted that Gomez had sent her Mexican divorce papers, Mrs. O'Dea exclusively informed the Boston Evening American that the "parting of the ways" would mean her eventual return to the stage and movies that once brought her fame.

STILL LOVES LEFTY

A petite, sparkling brunette, whose big blue eyes and bewitching smile remind you at the same time of Betty Davis and Joan Bonomo, she played up to the part of the heroine in her real-life drama by defending the man she loves.

"I won't say a thing against Lefty—he's so fine and I think so much of him to criticize him. It's all such a mystery to me. I'm just stunned. Lefty's a grand fellow, ambitious and clever and like all pitchers, highbriquet."

Gomez, in the meantime, is endeavoring to become involved in domestic difficulties within a week. Last Thursday Mrs. Cudella, Irving, former actress, was granted a divorce in Connecticut.

JOHNNY SIGN PAPERS

Mrs. O'Dea shrugged her shoulders philosophically as she spoke of her husband's attempt to obtain a divorce.

"I suppose it's his life. Lefty is young and famous and talented—he's got everything. He was so wonderful with the Yankees this year and everything has changed his prizes. I suppose he can't be blamed for having a change of heart."

Other stories about her going around a long time but I don't worry until Lefty stopped writing—he is in California with his folks. Then a Broadway musical mentioned none other girl and the Mexican divorce, so I told him that I was the truth.

"The divorce papers were no answer. I sent them back unopened. They're not valid. I'm a United States citizen. I consent, and I never signed anything that prevents such action and anyway, I love him."

She picked up "Ethel Morn," the Scottie pup which has traveled the country's baseball circuit with her and Mrs. Gomez, then spoke with pride of their nearly five years of married life.

GAVE UP CAREER

"We were married early in 1933, when I was married to 'The I Sing.' Lefty was a fine player then but not on top. He had a few lean years. He wanted me to give up the stage and I did, two years ago."

That was during Lefty's big 1935 season. Her eyes glinted as she described Lefty's 22 victories in 1937 and last October's World Series. Then she said:

"He came strong this season and weren't we tickled? We were so happy and when Lefty went to California to rest and hunt he promised to be back by Thanksgiving at least."

"Well, here Christmas has come and gone, and all I have are the divorce papers."

Lefty-June Breakup

Shocks Mrs. Babe Ruth

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—News of the breakup of the Lefty Gomez-June O'Dea marriage came as a distinct shock today to their close friend, Mrs. George Herman Ruth, wife of the retired Sultan of Swat.

"They appeared devoted to each other as recently as last July 8," Mrs. Ruth said.

"We shared a hotel suite on that day, while Lefty was playing in the all-star game at Washington, and I saw no indication of a rift."

It certainly is a shock to me to hear that June and Lefty are splitting up. They used to travel with us when Babe played with the Yanks and often shared our hotel suite.

"We had June and Lefty to dinner at our home many times, and she always appeared to be devoted to each other."

"I am very sorry for both of them."

Repentant Jilter Warned to Let Girl Alone

She Has Him in Court
For Tossing Pebbles
At Her Window

James Martin, 23-year-old Plymouth youth, received a setback in Quincy court today in his attempt to patch up the romance with the girl he allegedly left waiting at the altar.

Judge Kenneth Johnson warned Martin to stay away from the girl, since until the case had been disposed of.

The youth was arraigned on charges arising out of the girl's allegations that Martin tossed pebbles at her window on Christmas night. Earlier that night she told police Martin, seeking reconciliation, sent a boy to her home with the pebbles and she was in her room on her wedding day. It failed to move her.

SHE CALLS POLICE

The pebble-throwing kept up for some time, she said, that finally she called police. When they arrived she was in the vicinity.

Later police saw Martin driving in an automobile. He was arrested on charges of operating without a license and registering and then passing the latter charge brought by the girl's mother, Mrs. Bennett.

Martin pleaded guilty to the motor vehicle charges, which were placed on file.

Pleading not guilty to the other he requested a continuance which was granted to December 28.

TO OFFER WITNESSES

He said the court he wished to furnish witnesses and he was ordered to $100 personal recognizance.

Last September, while waiting for Miss Anne Russell, 19, of 22 Humphrey street, New Bedford, to marry him, he was in the church in the morning.

That Miss Russell asserted everything. Shortly afterward she went to New York to work, returning for Christmas.

March Babies

Are Smartest

Also Live Longest,
Says Yale Savant

CHICAGO, Dec. 27 (INS)—Babies born in March or late February have a better chance for intellectual achievement, Prof. Elwyn H. Hall, director of the University of Chicago intelligence tests, announced today.

Likewise, children born during the time live on the average forty-four years longer than those born during the preceding months.

Dr. Huntington said he based his findings after studying birth statistics of about 100,000 children in the preceding years.

"The maximum of births of those who develop high intellectual powers comes in March is not because those persons inherit great talents. It is because they possess the physical stamina to bring their intellectual capacities to fruition."

The most unfavorable months, according to the Yale savant, are July, August, and September.

Daughter Tells Of Shooting Her Mother

WARREN, O., Dec. 27 (INS)—Miss Louise Campbell, 28, testified at a coroner's inquest here today that she accidentally shot her mother, Mrs. Cudella Campbell, in their luxurious home near Youngstown, when the older woman tried to wrest a pistol out of her hand.

Miss Campbell told the story of the shooting in a halting manner, frequently breaking down. She was the first witness to the inquest.

Before the inquest, Trumbull county authorities visited the Campbell home where the shooting took place.

Mrs. Campbell was the daughter-in-law of the late James J. Campbell, former head of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.

Miss Campbell was detained in the county jail here pending the inquest. She was weak and nervous, according to the jail physician, after refusing food and giving 14 ounces of blood in a futile effort to save her mother's life by transfusion.

FIND BLOOD GLASSES

Investigative found half-filled liquor glasses today in the room where Mrs. Campbell was wounded. The investigators examined a five-foot Christmas tree which Mrs. Campbell was trimming just before the shooting.

The body was found in a large closet about four feet from the fire and directly above a party burned candle. One witness of the shooting was that Mrs. Campbell had fired a shot at her mother's feet, after failing to wrest the pistol from her mother.

HIT BY SECOND SHOT

Paul J. Reagan, county prosecutor, said the shooting appeared to be accidental.

"She fired one shot which struck a wall of the house," he said. "The second, according to the investigation, struck Mrs. Campbell, passing through her body and ricocheting against the wall."

Immediately after the shooting Mrs. Campbell was taken to the hospital, accompanied by Eugene and Mrs. Marie Russell of Youngstown, the wounded woman's sister. The transfusion for which Louise Campbell was ordered at once.

Baritone in Domestic Mix Gives Up Hope Of Making Her Bride

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (INS)—The immediate future holds only one goal for that handsome baritone, Everett Marshall—an absolute divorce and marital freedom.

So out the window today went all the romantic reports that he has been fighting to get rid of his present wife in order to make Patricia Bowman, his bride.

"That's all over," announced his manager, Guy Poe.

They haven't seen each other for some time. Now all Mr. Marshall wants is his freedom.

The baritone's wife, Mrs. Caroline Segregara Marshall, has obtained a separation from him with $200-a-week alimony. Marshall, meanwhile, is suing for divorce in Texas.

13 Million Gem Smuggle Ring Is Broken

Successful 7 Years; Indicted Trio in N. Y. Tuesday

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—Diamonds—$13,000,000 worth—beautiful, sparkling, icy gems.

Week after week for seven years, gigantic lines moved into New York ports carrying the diamonds, hidden in the false bottoms of suitcases.

Today, after two years of tireless searching that led all over Europe, the government moved to cut off the last rivulets of that glittering stream of diamonds.

A huge liner moved toward New York today, but the time it carried two men and a woman, the government charged were among the last fugitive cases in an international smuggling ring.

25 FUGITIVES SAFE

The travelers who will arrive Tuesday on the Brenzavia are Nat Lukin, Claude Firenberg and Solomon Halper, three of 25 men and women indicted last June 30 of whom were subsequently convicted.

Twenty-five defendants remained fugitives, nine from extradition in Europe. Now the government's net is tightening.

More than a year ago the sudden appearance of quantities of diamonds on the New York market aroused the suspicion of sharp-eyed customs agents.

In November, 1935, an innocent-looking woman of 28, Vienna-born, a resident of New York, walked down the gangplank of a liner carrying a suitcase.

Agents grabbed her, she protested she knew nothing. Her demands that she be allowed to go home to her little girl. The suitcase contained $250,000 worth of gems.

From there, through arrest after arrest, the trail led abroad. Agents of the ring—some dupes—were housewives, salesgirls, a school teacher, a labor union agent, a French actress. Some traveled incognito on monthly schedules, returning with thousands of dollars worth of jewels each trip and mysterious orders.

It had been going on for seven years, the agents found. Some of the "customers" were innocent. The young New York mother had been duped by her husband. The actress had been tricked into selling the smuggling. There was one pretext or another, had been given hidden packages to carry.

DIAMOND CLUB FOUND

Hidden away in a downtown building, customs agents found a "diamond club" where the ring's last agents met when their ships docked. Under a big skylight they sorted the gems.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Charles Murphy went aboard Dec. 10, March to dig further into the ring's secrets.

When he returned arrested followed, with quick admission of guilt. The defendants were packed off to prison. Fines totaling $400,000 were imposed.

But the diamond stream continued. Murphy asked again for the tober, and, attracted with the French and Belgian governments' root out the fugitive from an extradition-protest hideouts. The return of Lukin, Firenberg and Halper followed.

More than $27,000,000 will be distributed to 180,000 persons in Massachusetts next year in unemployment insurance benefits, it was announced today by Judge Emil Fuchs, chairman of the State employment compensation commission.

Registration will begin January 3 at the public works building on South street and at 48 armories throughout the state.

Checks will begin to go out four weeks after registration since four weeks of unemployment must pass before benefits are paid. They range from a minimum of $5 weekly to a maximum of $15 weekly. The longest period a person may collect is 13 weeks, without a new period of employment.

At the end of the year, the reserve fund is expected to reach $15,000,000, after all payments are made. There are about 130,000 persons working in Massachusetts, but only about 12,000 are entitled to the law. Commissioner Fuchs pointed out. Persons who have not been employed since the law went into effect and who, therefore, have made no contribution, cannot qualify for benefits.

Registration will start in the many armories at 9 a.m. Monday with Judge Fuchs' principal, along with two commissioners, Frank G. Allen and Robert J. Watt, making a statewide tour to strengthen the law.

Solution Nears In 'Robinsons' Spy Mystery

U. S. Official Admits New York Couple's Moves Probed

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (INS)—A solution to the extraordinary international puzzle involving the mysterious "Robinsons" arrested and spirited to some secret prison in Soviet Russia, is expected momentarily, federal investigators revealed today.

In an copyrighted story in the New York Daily Mirror, Thomas Pritch, head of a state Department case was quoted as saying:

"The State Department hopes to clear up this matter very shortly. The Robinsons are definitely the subject of investigation in connection with the Robinson case."

This was the first official admission that the Robinsons have the attention of the government. The investigation apparently was to determine the facts in reports that Adolph and Ruth Rubens are really "Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Robinson."

A perplexing angle to the case developed when officials revealed that the Rubens' little daughter, Ruth, and her grandmother, were believed living somewhere near N. Y. But authorities would not say whether they had appeared to them for information regarding the missing couple.

More than a year ago, Alice Fisher, living next door to the Rubens' 1936 home in the Forest Hills, marked the curious episode that occurred shortly before the missing couple moved to a summer cottage in Belle Harbor, Mrs. Fisher said.

"The Rubens came to our house and asked me if I could let her have any old keys."

After ATTY GEN. LLOYD "She said her husband was trying to get into his study where he kept all his books and papers and the key had been lost. She said he always kept his study locked, not permitting even the maid to go into the room."

"I took over all the keys. I could find and Mrs. Rubens stopped me at the front door. She apologized for not inviting me in. She said her husband was inside and never liked people to come in."

"You can imagine we thought this very strange. One of the keys fitted the door of Mrs. Rubens' room. But Mr. Rubens never came to thank us. In fact, he never came to see us in all the time they lived there."

"We heard later that Mr. Rubens employed a locksmith to change the lock in his study."

NEWTON D. BAKER Rites Tomorrow CLEVELAND, Dec. 27 (AP)—Simple funeral services will be held tomorrow for former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, 80, died today.

Arrangements called for the body to be taken with a military guard of honor in Trinity Episcopal Cathedral tomorrow morning. Funeral services will be held in the cathedral in the afternoon.

Burial will be in Lake View Cemetery here, near the graves of President James A. Garfield, John D. Rockefeller, Senator Marcus A. Hanna and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick.

Baker died at his home here last afternoon of coronary thrombosis. He had been confined to his home by heart illness for nearly a month. He was 80 years old.

It cost $73.90 per capita—$73.90 for each man, woman and child in the city of Boston to run the city government in 1936. What the figures for 1937 are, exactly, is not yet known. However, the 1936 figure, made public by the state, with the United States Census Bureau figure, were $73.90 less than the per capita figures for 1935.

Highest item of Boston's 1936 expenditures was $20.90 per capita for schools. Another $14.2 was for hospitals, exclusive of hospitals, came to $10.34 per capita. Hospitals accounted for another $3.73; prisons, $1.08.

Schools $20.90; libraries $2.78; hospitals $10.34; prisons $3.73; police $1.08.

Fisk Tire Head Urges Profit Tax Repeal

Uncertainty Is Blamed For Business Trend By Col. Speaks

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 27 (AP)—Describing the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes as "impractical and unworkable," Colonel Charles E. Speaks, president of the Fisk Tire Company, today called for "immediate repeal" as a safeguard against further "uncertainty."

In a letter to Senator Pat Harrison (D.) of Mississippi, Speaks said manufacturers operating under present conditions, were unable to fulfill "moral and legal obligations to employees and stockholders."

It is difficult, he asserted, for manufacturers to guess what the profits would be December 1 when the year does not end until December 31.

"Profits under the rules and regulations of the United States Treasury Department are governed," he said, "to a large extent by the inventory conditions which is priced at market or cost, whichever is lower—and who knows in these times what the market price is going to be on any commodity 30 days from now. That is uncertain."

Uncertainty, he said, was the greatest cause of the present downward trend in business.

"It has been most difficult for honest and well-intentioned executives to plan anything in business since 1930," he added, "and it is my honest opinion that this is responsible for the present unemployment situation, for its long continuance, and for the present slump in business."

FLORA CAMPBELL She'll Be Maid of Honor in Hospital

CLEVELAND, Dec. 27 (AP)—Beth Campbell of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Joseph H. Short, Jr., of Vicksburg, Miss., planned today a hospital wedding so the bride-elect's sister, Flora Campbell, would not miss her role—that of maid of honor.

Flora will be absent for a time, from her role of leading lady in the New York production "Many, Many Women."

She became ill while en route from New York to Toledo, where last night, she was taken from a train here and underwent an emergency appendectomy at a Cleveland hospital. Attendants said today she was "resting comfortably."

Beth Campbell and her fiancé cancelled their wedding at Toledo and, accompanied by other members of the wedding party, came here to bring the wedding to the bedside of the maid of honor.

Short and his bride-elect said they would be married this week in the actress' hospital room when hospital officials decide the patient's condition will permit.

The ceremony will be witnessed by Mrs. Webster Price Adams of Toledo who, with her twin sister, the actress, was to have attended the bride-elect; the Campbell sisters, brother, Jackson J. Campbell, a Yale student, and their father, T. Bernard Campbell of Tyler, Tex. Short and Beth Campbell are members of the Associated Press staff in Washington.

Flora Campbell is well known in New England. She was a featured star with the South Shore players at Cohasset last summer and starred in "Room Service" in Boston.

King Sanctions Royal Marriage SANDRINGHAM, England, Dec. 27 (INS)—King George VI, 51, consented to the marriage of Princess Frederica, daughter of the Duke of Brunswick, to Prince Paul of Greece.

Princess Frederica is a great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria. King George gave formal assent to the marriage under the royal marriage act. All descendants of Queen Victoria, except any offspring of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, come within the scope of the royal marriage act.

Newton D. Baker Rites Tomorrow CLEVELAND, Dec. 27 (AP)—Simple funeral services will be held tomorrow for former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, 80, died today.

Arrangements called for the body to be taken with a military guard of honor in Trinity Episcopal Cathedral tomorrow morning. Funeral services will be held in the cathedral in the afternoon.

Burial will be in Lake View Cemetery here, near the graves of President James A. Garfield, John D. Rockefeller, Senator Marcus A. Hanna and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick.

Baker died at his home here last afternoon of coronary thrombosis. He had been confined to his home by heart illness for nearly a month. He was 80 years old.

Breen's Death Bullets Clue To Killer

Found in His Summer Home; Police Press Hunt for 2 Men

Six strange looking bullets—the same type with which Richard Breen 10 days ago—have been found at Breen's summer cottage in New Hampshire, the Boston Evening American learned today.

The find, according to police, turned the "heat" back again on two particular members of Boston's underworld.

Both are members of the North side of the law. Both were guests of Breen last summer at the cottage in Moultonboro, N. H.

Both became involved in heated discussion with Breen shortly before he was mowed down in the lobby of the Metropolitan Hotel and one of the other is believed to have inadvertently left behind the bullets when all were friendly last summer.

OLD-TIME BULLETS

The lethal leads are of the obsolete .32-20 type and they have been worked in such a way as to make identification difficult.

Because of the discovery and the new information that followed, police plan to question the two North Enders, one of whom already has been questioned and released.

Because of recent injuries suffered by Police Ballistics Expert Edward Schmitt, Boston authorities plan to ask the services of Captain Charles A. Van Amburgh, state ballistics man.

WOMAN SAW BREEN

A 20-year-old Revere resident, an employee in a South End night club, was placed in the lineup at the owner of a South End night club headquarters today to give what information she had concerning Richard Breen.

Police stated he would be released today.

It was revealed by authorities today that Miss Ellen Tackie, who was placed in the lineup at the club yesterday to give what information she had concerning Richard Breen, was a hotel employee.

According to police, Mrs. Tackie said she was in the office of the hotel with her husband and saw Breen before the shooting.

Mrs. Tackie also declared that she did not see the man who shot Breen, but she left for New York with her husband. The latter had previously talked with police.

Authorities reiterated today they expect to talk to James Wey, assistant president and treasurer of Metropolitan Hotel, in the belief he might be able to aid in the investigation.

Eight officers of Warren avenue were assigned to the investigation today under Captain Francis M. Tierney.

Dever to Request Dewey Power

With the coupling of several witnesses, officials attached to the office of Attorney-General Paul A. Dever today planned to consider this line of investigation into racketeering conditions in Revere.

At the same time it was learned that Attorney-General Dever was prepared to go before the legislature with his recommendations giving his office powers comparable to those given Special Prosecutor Thomas E. Dewey in New York in the latter's fight against racketeers.

Dever seeks the right to summon witnesses and hold them for questioning subject to penalties of perjury and contempt.

It was learned the attorney-general would be personally invited to appear before the legislature.

Attorney-General Dever declared today he had not received a letter which Revere "Vigilantes" reported had been sent him demanding protection of all members of the Revere police department with the exception of one officer.

Relief Needs Real Threat to Budget

WASHINGTON, (INS)—Ominous trends in the nation's economic picture are dampening the spirit of even the most hopeful of budget-balancers as relief needs took a dangerous turn for the worse in recent weeks.

Administration leaders, it has been learned, increasingly appear, as a loss to build for next year's relief appropriation for they have no accurate guidepost at present. Moreover, more serious than that, they are being plagued by strong demands that expenditures this year be increased to provide for the mounting number of unemployed.

U. S. Wild Life Census Planned

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (INS)—Census taking, which has covered the number, age, sex, color and about everything but creed of the nation is now going to try to find out how many deer, elk, antelope, buffalo and other forms of wild life inhabit the 142,000,000 acres of public range.

Purpose of the census, Department of Interior officials say, is to prevent extinction of some species of wild life, and to prevent destruction of grazing lands.

New Deal Orders Defeat Of War Referendum Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27 (INS)—The administration has instructed House leaders to seek defeat of the House war referendum amendment in the first test vote, Dec. 28 to demonstrate in Congress its support of the proposal.

This was disclosed today by a congressional leader who pointed out the administration's position on the legislation in the current international situation, received a setback when its House members, a majority, signed a petition favoring the proposed constitutional amendment to a vote three weeks hence.

That the administration is confident it could easily maintain the strength to block the two-thirds House vote required to approve an amendment to the Constitution, but this might fail to "ease the embarrassment" of a simple majority vote in favor of the referendum plan.

That the amendment must be defeated by a simple majority vote in the House of Representatives, favoring a referendum on war, the congressional speaker said.

The amendment has been recommended by Secretary of State Hull and approved by President Hoover.

"This nation cannot be put in the position of having a majority of its House of Representatives favoring a referendum on war," the speaker said.

The amendment has been recommended by Secretary of State Hull and approved by President Hoover.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 27.—Many a Florida moon has waxed and waned since the good Colonel Edward Riley Bradley opened the gambling casino at 131 Beach that it is known that it is just as "brilliant" as a star.

There, down through the years, the young man who had been a lad and a lady who had been a girl, had been a part of the life of the colony.

Now, in the year when the gambling mallet in the coat of the State of Florida is in the air, the colonel continued to operate.

It, on these occasions, there was speculation as to just what was behind the curtain, no one of the consequences ever bothered to look in behind him to see, "Bradley" was accepted as a "brilliant" man, a man who had been a part of the life of the colony.

Now it appears that for the first time since old Ponce de Leon was rummaging around through the part of the world looking for the fountain of youth, the colony may have to decide a renege at "Bradley's." An order recently issued by Governor Clegg, of Palm Beach, calling on the sheriffs of three counties to squash illegal gambling in their precincts, covers the island of the good colonel.

LOOKS LIKE RECKLESS

Probably not even the colonel himself ever contended that his gambling was legal, under the laws of the State of Florida. He may have claimed for it, gratuity, even gambling, but scarcely legality. His gambling is mainly rooted in French, Spanish, and under the statutes of Florida that it is just as illegal as crack or Mr. Pharaoh's back.

Palm Beach is in Palm Beach county and Governor Clegg, an elderly Cracker who has the constant of meeting what he says has indicated that county and Broward and our own Dade, as the region in which there must be no illegal gambling means. Legal gambling hereabouts is gambling on the dogs and horses and Ju-Lu.

GOOD SEASON FOR TEST

The governor of Florida, has the power to remove a sheriff and a county sheriff is a dead fish, the State Senate meets and he can't run. Thus, the order from the governor meets with immediate attention from the Florida sheriffs.

Dade County folks think that Governor Clegg's order definitely settles for this season, the annual question as to whether there will be open gambling in these parts this winter.

The answer is no, and some of the Dade County folks feel that it may be a good thing. With things not any too hot, anyway, not only down here, but everywhere, it may be a good season to determine if South Florida can get along without gambling.

Of course, if there is no gambling and a season in dull the fact to complain that the dullness was due to gambling, and the season will turn out, they blame the gambling. Now, when it looks as if the season is likely to reflect conditions normally, it is a reasonable deduction, and if it appears that the community needs gambling, the governor's order may result in the only solution that has any sense—which is the legislation of gambling.

Some argue that it is impossible to prevent gambling down here, legal or no legal, and this might be true of other seasons. However, this season there are many blocks around who came here to open gambling establishments, and it is the improved public gamblers who cannot run themselves to holler copper on any of their brethren that they find running.

"VOLUNTEER COPS"

Thus the community will be full of volunteer cops. If a fellow tries to sneak a little, the palm trees will be calling to the sheriffs of "look, officer," from the volunteers. Probably the only gambler in Florida who will not feel any too badly about the closing order is that same Colonel Edward Riley Bradley we speak of above.

The colonel is well past the old three-score-and-ten pole. "Bradley" of late years, has not been all that it used to be in the days when it was the one place on this continent that had anything like that atmosphere of gambling gentility and seclusion that our imagination pictures of the great gambling empires of Europe.

Probably what has kept the colonel going as much as anything else is his loyalty to his old employees at "Bradley's." It is said the place made no money last season, but that the colonel paid the fat bonuses that have cost him custom for years. As a rule he does not open until after the first of January, so his attitude toward the governor's closing order cannot be determined for awhile.

But some think the colonel will welcome an adjournment.

Blind Faith DeHaven Strangely Gets Sight

CULVER CITY, Cal., Dec. 26 (INS)—After three years of blindness, Faith De Haven, 20-year-old actress, today rejoined in the restoration of her sight, which had come back as mysteriously as it had gone.

Leaving her home near Hartford, Ct., for Manchester, Eng., to be near her guardian, Sir Harvey Miln, she went on the stage at the age of 16 and her sight was restored. One day backstage Miss De Haven received word of the death of her mother. She was so shocked that she could not see for a week.

A little over a year ago the blindness began to have a grayish tinge, and as the months passed, she could make out vague shapes. Little by little objects became more distinct. Finally, two months ago, she was able to read newspaper headlines.

Improvement continued until suddenly, a few days ago, she said she could see. She said she could see a book she could see to read a book.

Duchess of Rutland Dies in Operation

LONDON, Dec. 27 (AP)—Viscountess Duchess of Rutland, mother of the ninth Duke of Rutland and mother-in-law of Alfred Duff Cooper, First Lord of the Admiralty died today following an appendicitis operation. She was about 75 years old. Her daughter, wife of Duff Cooper, is the former Lady Evelyn Manners, noted beauty who just after the war appeared on the stage as the nun in the production "The Miracle."

Rare Operation Aids Woman, 61

Male Characteristics' Development Halted

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—University of California Medical School records today disclosed how a rare operation halted development of male characteristics in a woman, 61.

Doctors said the woman told them that growth of hair on her face made it necessary for her to shave daily.

The records further disclosed that her voice was deep-toned, and that her shoulders were broad as a man's.

After the removal of a non-malignant ovarian tumor, the woman's facial contours softened, body hair diminished, and the voice lost its masculine timbre, the reports said.

Married 30 years the woman had never borne a child. She was said to live in the east. Her name was not disclosed.

Forbes Takes Cheerful View On Conditions

More Optimistic Over Outlook Than Last Year

By B. C. FORBES

This year came in prominently, is going out disappointingly, measured by economic yardsticks.

The whole drift for an month or more has been downward. Weeks ago, Administration officials had estimated a report showing that the nation would have lost 100,000 jobs since September, and estimating that between the end of the year and the end of next year, the nation would have lost 200,000 jobs.

The last year has dropped from 80 to 100 per cent of capacity, according to the Federal Reserve Board. The last year has dropped from 80 to 100 per cent of capacity, according to the Federal Reserve Board.

EXTENT OF SLUMP

Here is the view of the slump from the Federal Reserve Board, the most important economic authority in the country.

1. Circulation for January 2, 1938

There are 995 cities of 10,000 population and over in the United States. These 995 cities represent only 1% of the population centers of the country—yet 14,670,299 families are concentrated there—49% of all the families in the United States! And they account for 70% of all retail sales.

The American Weekly goes into the homes of—

20 to 30% of all the families in 164 of these cities
30 to 50% of all the families in 153 of these cities
30 to 50% of all the families in 155 of these cities
More than 50% of all the families in 247 of these cities

In 609 of the 995 cities you find 10,662,803 families—and 45.71% of the families in this group receive The American Weekly.

In addition 2,000,000 other families throughout the country regularly receive The American Weekly.

These 7,000,000 families—readers of The American Weekly—spend approximately $8,750,000,000 a year in retail purchases.

'Little Peggy' Shimmick Wins Match at Longwood

Dorothy Wightman Scores Easily in Girls' Nationals

Little 16-year-old "Peggy" Shimmick, from Winchester high school, turned in the most sparkling victory of the first round of the national girls' indoor singles tennis championships this morning on the Longwood covered courts when she downed Nancy Phillips of Providence, R. I., in three sets, 6-3, 4-6, 7-5.

"Peggy" dominated the first set by forcing the Providence girl to make many errors while being able to keep the ball in play. The second set was the exact opposite of the first, with the Longwooder showing the decided edge.

Both girls fought hard throughout the third and final set and kept the spectators excited right up to the last minute when the Winchester girl managed to score a slight advantage to take out a 7-5 set for match victory.

Dorothy Wightman, defeated fourth seeded, shown her complete "deflection of strokes" in following Dorothy Craig of Needham, in straight sets, 6-0, 6-1.

GAMES TOMORROW NIGHT
(At Arena, 7:30)
Boston College High vs. Weymouth
Needham vs. Waltham
Quincy vs. Woburn
Wellesley vs. Needham

Wellesley, Needham and Weymouth will be the featured teams in the Bay State League hockey games tomorrow night at the Boston Arena.

Of the quarter of the top for the league second round of the current season, the Wellesley-Needham game should be the most exciting of the night.

Both teams looked decidedly impressive in their season's opening game, but both are more anxious to remain in first place and in the undefeated class.

Waltham, another top place six, might find some trouble in the quarter of the top for the league second round of the current season, the Wellesley-Needham game should be the most exciting of the night.

Woburn, another top place six, might find some trouble in the quarter of the top for the league second round of the current season, the Wellesley-Needham game should be the most exciting of the night.

Cashman Names Traynor, Rabbit For Hal of Fame

Alexander, Collins, Sisler, Youngs, Bresnahan, Keeler, Walsh, Clarke His Other Nominations

BY JOE CASHMAN
The office mail chute has just received our contribution to the third annual Hall of Fame poll.

Permitted to choose, we voted for Grover Cleveland Alexander, Eddie Collins, George Sisler, Ross Youngs, Rabbit Maranville, Willie Keeler, Roger Bresnahan, Ed Walsh, Fred Clarke and "Pie" Traynor.

FOUR ALREADY CHOSEN
The names of all, if any, nominees receiving 75 per cent of the total vote will follow those of the aforementioned 18 superstars of yesterday.

And that thought was the one of the silliest of sport fancies the last time I wrote about the Hall of Fame. It was a good thing to pick up winners who were still alive.

With three triumphs in the same number of starts, Carl Morrison's flashy Brockton sextet is holding down the top berth in the up-and-coming Eastern Massachusetts Intercollegiate Hockey League.

The Brockton representatives broke a three-armed tie with Somerville and Malden on Christmas evening when they tripped up Dedham, who the Red and Blue was losing to Lexington and the Dedham was tied to a draw by Hudson.

In addition to the brilliant Hayward and Johnson, Brockton's line-up included the fastest individual performer in the circuit in Dick Hayward, who was the right winger and the second leading scorer.

As in the other two Brockton games, Hayward was the big playmaker in the attack. He marked up one goal and received a pass from Johnson, who was the center.

The nothing-done record of the special session shows the extent to which President Roosevelt's grip on Congress has slipped. The first major rebellion against his dictation came in the summer when the senate rebelled against his scheme to pack the Supreme Court. The House took the bit in its teeth when
